DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-6, 13-15 and 19-31, drawn to a method for electrical stimulation of neuromuscular tissue in the viscera, classified in class 607, subclass 40.
  - II. Claims 7-12 and 16-18, drawn to an apparatus for electrical stimulation of the neuromuscular tissue of the viscera, classified in class 607, subclass 40.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another and materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus can be used to practice another and materially different process such as electro-accupuncture or cardiac pacing or defibrillating.
3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
4. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: the lead species of Fig. 2; the lead species of Fig. 14; the lead species of Fig. 17; the lead species of Fig. 23; the stimulation species wherein the stimulus is applied to diagonal pairs of electrodes simultaneously; the stimulation species wherein the stimulus is applied to diagonal pairs of electrodes sequentially; the stimulation species wherein the stimulus is applied between first, second, third, and fourth electrode pairs. The species are independent or distinct because the lead species are mutually exclusive of one another, have different structure and methods of implant. The stimulation species are also mutually exclusive of one another and require specific structure to implement.

The applicant may elect one lead species and one stimulation species to form a single embodiment provided the combination has been disclosed in the original disclosure. The applicant may, for example, elect the lead species of Fig. 2 and the stimulation species involving diagonal electrode pair sequential stimulation for examination, but would not be allowed to elect the lead species of Fig. 2 with the stimulation species involving four pairs of electrodes since the lead of Fig. 2 does not contain four pairs of electrodes.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1, 13 and 19 appear to be generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Kennedy Schaetzle whose telephone number is 571 272-4954. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F from 9:30 -6:00.
